

Summer Reading Challenge 2021

WILD WORLD HEROES

Presented by The Reading Agency.
Delivered in partnership with libraries.

Weekly Challenge 6

Monday 16 August – Sunday 22 August
Orangutans and Deforestation

These great apes only found in the wild on the islands of Borneo and Sumatra are critically endangered, with just over 100,000 Bornean, fewer than 14,000 Sumatran, and less than 800 Tapanuli orangutans left. The main threat is the loss or fragmentation of their forest habitat, caused by logging for timber materials, forest fires and making way for oil palm plantations.

For your sixth challenge FIND SUSTAINABLE PALM OIL ON YOUR SHOPPING TRIP! Check the ingredient labels on the products you buy for a sustainable palm oil logo.

There are some great books about bees available from your local library including 'There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom' by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon and 'The Explorer' by Katherine Rundell.

Mini challenges will be issued each week featuring a different environmental theme on our website and social channels! If you would like more information, please contact the Environmental Education Team at Eco-Schools@leicester.gov.uk.

Illustrations © Heath McKenzie 2021

Supported using public funding by
ARTS COUNCIL ENGLAND

